Researching Crime and Violence in Medellín, Colombia Caroline Doyle, 2024-03-06 Researching Crime and Violence in Medellín, Colombia: Truth versus Truths questions categories, assumptions and labels around interpretations of criminal actors and violence in Latin America and the Caribbean. Drawing from her experiences conducting fieldwork in Medellín, Colombia, Caroline Doyle provides readers with a unique window into the complex reality of crime and violence in the city. She reflects on her journey to try and make sense of the crime and violence and challenges she faced in the field, such as navigating her identity, accessing participants, perceived and real danger, and the almost impossible task of cross-checking data to find a "truth." Doyle provides readers with a unique insight into the complexity of these issues throughout the region and some of the challenges researchers and authorities can face while measuring and ultimately addressing crime and violence.

Vivir Sabroso. Luchas y movimientos afrotratinos, en Bojayá, Chocó, Colombia Quiceno Toro, Natalia, 2016-12-01 Este trabajo es producto de una etnografía realizada en la región del Medio Atrato chocoano, en el Pacífico colombiano. En esta región, mayoritariamente habitada por colectivos afro e indígenas emberá, existen prácticas de resistencia que se definen como defensa de la vida y el territorio. En las últimas décadas esa resistencia responde a las amenazas impuestas por la guerra y la militarización de los territorios. Para analizar esas prácticas privilegio los conceptos propios que están atados a las luchas cotidianas, en lugar de acudir a marcos conceptuales como los derechos humanos o la justicia transicional. La idea del vivir sabroso hace parte de esos conceptos y articula campos como los de la terapéutica, las relaciones de parentesco, la espiritualidad y el movimiento social. Este trabajo hace un recorrido por los lugares y experiencias donde es modulada la vida sabrosa, identificando como allí se ponen en juego procedimientos que procuran mantener un balance entre temperaturas, fuerzas y distancias.

El mapa criminal en Colombia Ariel Ávila, 2022-12-01 Ariel Ávila se ocupa de pasar revista a las violencias después del acuerdo de paz. Es un balance crítico, pero, como siempre, muy documentado. Tiene razón el autor en sus preocupaciones. Estamos ante el resurgir de algunas violencias y ante el temor de que el incendio de las armas y los fusiles tome otra vez una gran fuerza en Colombia. Tomado del Prólogo de León Valencia Ariel Ávila explica en este libro la reconfiguración de la guerra en Colombia después de la firma del proceso de paz con las FARC. Luego de transitar por la inmensidad de las zonas rurales y los pueblos, veredas y municipios más afectados por los grupos armados, hablar con sus gentes y entender en terreno sus nuevas realidades, el autor y su equipo de investigación revelan las respuestas a preguntas como ¿por qué no se silenciaron todos los fusiles en Colombia después del proceso de La Habana?, ¿cuáles son los grupos armados cuya fortaleza económica y militar se alimenta de economías ilegales como el narcotráfico, la compra y venta de armas, la trata de personas, la minería ilegal y otras actividades ilícitas?, ¿por qué se sigue reciclando la guerra?. El mapa criminal en Colombia, una detallada anatomía de la guerra en el país, es un texto de obligatoria lectura para entender por qué nos seguimos matando. Y es, a la vez, la ruta para alcanzar la paz total.

Historia de la locura en Colombia Ricardo Silva Moreno, 2019-08-01 La historia de la locura en Colombia puede leerse como la terapia psicológica que tanto necesita Colombia. Como si el autor hubiera sentado en el diván al país para que este se desahogue de todos sus miedos, temores, pesadillas, traumas, duelos. Porque la vida en Colombia ha sido una marcha fúnebre desde siempre, desde que se tiene consciencia de nación, de territorio.

Raising Two Fists Roosbelinda Cárdenas, 2024-02-27 Raising Two Fists is a historically grounded ethnography of Afro-Colombian political mobilization after the multicultural turn that swept Latin America in the 1990s, when states began to recognize and legally enshrine rights for Afro-descendants. Roosbelinda Cárdenas explores three major strategies that Afro-Colombians' developed in their struggles against racialized dispossession—the defense of culturally specific livelihoods through the creation of Black Territories; the demand for differential reparations for Afro-Colombian war victims; and the fight for inclusion in Colombia's peace negotiations and post-conflict rebuilding—illustrating how they engage in this work both as participants of organized political movements and in their everyday lives. Although rights-based claims to the state have become necessary and pragmatic tools in the intersecting struggles for racial, economic, and social justice, Cárdenas argues that they continue to be ineffective due to Colombia's entrenched colonial racial hierarchies. She shows that while Afro-Colombians pursue rights-based claims, they also forge African Diasporic solidarities and protect the flourishing of their lives outside of the frame of rights, and with or without the state's sanction—a two-fisted strategy for Black citizenship.

Participating in Peace Jefferson Jaramillo-Marín,Luz Mery López-Lizarazo,Adriel Ruiz-Galvan,Matthew Louis Bishop,Juan Mario Díaz-Arévalo,Juan Miguel Kanai,Melanie Lombard,Simon Rushton,Anastasia Shesterinina,Henry Staples,Helen Louise Turton,2023-07-31 What role does dialogue play in peacebuilding? How can community-based activities contribute to broader peace processes? What can participatory research methods add to local efforts to build peace? In this book, the authors examine these questions through their work with two different Colombian communities who have pursued dialogue amidst ongoing violence, environmental injustice and socio-economic challenges. By reflecting on what people in these contrasting places have achieved through participatory peacebuilding, the authors explore different forms of local agency, the prospects for non-extractive academic engagement, and practical and theoretical lessons for participating in peace in other conflict-affected settings.

Por qué se reciclan la corrupción y el crimen organizado en Colombia Mauricio Beltran-Cristancho,2017-06-28 La Gran Encuesta de mediados de 2014 reportaba una desconfianza gigantesca en las instituciones públicas. Incluso, el siempre bien valorado Ejército Nacional, escasamente conseguía un 56 por ciento de aprobación. Pero lo que resultaba inédito era la creciente desconfianza de los colombianos en su justicia que se equiparaba a la consuetudinaria del Congreso: casi un 80%. Lo más grave era que esa percepción se aplicaba a las tres grandes cortes. Hechos concretos reportados extensamente por los Medios demostraban que esa percepción no se trataba de propaganda eficientemente transmitida por algún sector de la sociedad. Dos años después, el escándalo de la multinacional brasilera Odebrecht probaba que la corrupción ya era transnacional, mientras que pasaba desapercibido que el crimen organizado en América Latina también lo era desde hace más de dos décadas. Lo que si era evidente en Colombia, era que no había departamento del país sin microtráfico y que los cultivos ilícitos alcanzarían niveles sin precedentes en el 2017. Este libro, a partir de un acto de corrupción de junio de 2007 en el Inpec, el cual pasó desapercibido para los Medios, y que está estrechamente relacionada con la desmovilización paramilitar, demuestra que el colapso de la justicia, particularmente de la criminal, no se enfrenta con más códigos penales ni con reformas constitucionales, y menos, con procesos de paz. La realidad es que la gran corrupción y el crimen organizado han encontrado en las cárceles el mecanismo silencioso para mantener sus prácticas, mientras que el grueso de los colombianos en medio de un especie de estado de naturaleza, han entendido que solo la astucia, la violencia y/o la amenaza, los puede, no solo proteger de los demás, incluso del mismo Estado, sino tener una fuente eficiente de recursos y de estatus social.

Understanding Conflict Imaginaries Simon Philpott, Nicholas Morgan, 2022-08-01 This Palgrave Pivot argues that if we are to understand civil conflict we need to grasp how everyday life is shaped by local conflict imaginaries. In order to examine this claim the book sets out to explore the contours of conflict imaginaries from two very different sites of conflict. Both Colombia and Indonesia have suffered from the collective trauma of political violence but in very different social, cultural and political contexts. Sketching out what they mean by a conflict imaginary, and explaining the relationship of this key concept to social imaginaries more broadly, the authors provide a historical overview of how political violence has been represented in both countries. They go on to outline the original qualitative research methods used to provide empirical evidence for the importance of conflict imaginaries, methods which allow them to explore the images and metaphors that underpin the spatial, chronological and emotional cartographies through which people make sense of political violence. With an emphasis on the construction of place-based knowledge, they consider the role of the local, the national and the global in the imagining of civil conflict, and show how film can be used to explore the imaginative worlds of social actors living alongside violence, revealing in the process the need to take seriously their hopes, fears, dreams and fantasies.

Pensar el cuerpo Verano Gamboa, Leonardo, Suárez González, Javier Roberto, 2015-01-03 Esta obra tematiza el lugar que ocupa el cuerpo en la sociedad actual a partir de las diversas formas en que se interpretado en la filosofía, la literatura y el arte. Sin duda, las representaciones más diversas sobre el cuerpo adquieren sentido cuando se relacionan con las expresiones simbólicas que el ser humano emplea al exponerse en su corporeidad. Las investigaciones y las reflexiones sobre el cuerpo no están por ello al margen de las discusiones económicas, políticas, éticas, sociales artísticas, literarias, educativas y filosóficas, ya que el reconocimiento de estos factores permiten destacar las maneras como, en la cotidianidad, se forma la subjetividad con base en distintas experiencias corporales. Aquí el lector encontrará que los debates actuales sobre el cuerpo implican la inclusión de sus modos de vivir, sentir y ser concebido este.

Belicopedia Daniel Ruiz Serna, Diana Ojeda, 2023-11-21 ¿Qué podemos aprender de la guerra cuando sus protagonistas son seres distintos a las personas? Desde árboles abandonados a zancudos zánganos, pasando por felinos feroces, minerales maliciosos o territorios tristes, Belicopedia explora la manera en que distintos animales, plantas, tecnologías y sustancias se han visto enredados en la guerra en Colombia. Al recorrer el conflicto armado junto a estos actores no humanos se hace evidente que la violencia es una experiencia compartida con otras comunidades y ecologías, lo cual debería ayudarnos a pensar el tipo de paz, reconciliación y reparación que son necesarias en estos tiempos de profunda crisis socioambiental, política y humanitaria

Decolonial Feminism in Abya Yala Yuderlys Espinosa-Miñoso, María Lugones,, Nelson Maldonado-Torres, 2022-08-01 This is a collection of eleven chapters and an introduction that develop key arguments in decolonial feminism, particularly, the coloniality of gender, the critique of white and Eurocentric feminisms, the imbrication between gender, race, and colonialism, feminicides, and the coloniality of democracy and public institutions. The introduction addresses the path of decolonial feminism: from a new approach to understanding the relationship between gender as a category, race, and colonialism that combined U.S. Third World feminism and scholarship on coloniality and decoloniality to its exponential growth in the hands of activists and engaged scholars from Latin America and the Caribbean. Today, much of the literature on decolonial feminism in Latin America and the Caribbean remains unknown in the U.S. This anthology seeks to start remedying this problem with seven translations of work originally written in Spanish, and three essays originally written in English that address the fundamental concepts of decolonial feminism as well as its contributions to important contemporary political and intellectual debates.

Bendita Habana Antonio Arroyo, 2019-04-09 La Habana de dos épocas confluye en esta novela donde el enigma se abre a partir de una valiosa joya que será subastada en Nueva York. De una parte, el obispo de Espada combate los males que aquejan a la iglesia más poderosa y corrupta de América Latina en pleno siglo XIX junto a personajes como el doctor Tomás Romay y el padre Félix Varela. Todos ellos unidos en la lucha contra las enfermedades, el racismo y las ilegalidades en las que se mueven algunos miembros eclesiásticos. Así como su antagonista, el conde O'Donnell, quien representa el espíritu más retrógrado de la época e intenta colocar contra la pared al obispo. Y del otro lado, Lola Alegría, Alejandro, Sandra, Marina y Leonid, cubanos que intentan sobrevivir en una Cuba que parece no haber solucionado todos los rezagos que acechan como el racismo, la pobreza, la corrupción y la desigualdad. Lenguaje duro ex profeso, sexo explícito, marginalidad y violencia a ultranza se adueñan de La Habana. Nada es lo que parece, es mucho peor.

Pasado y presente continuo de la memoria de los familiares de desaparecidos. El caso de Simón en Justicia y Paz Marcela Patricia Borja Alvarado, 2020-09-21 Este estudio de la historia del tiempo presente en el derecho se acerca al tema de la memoria desde una perspectiva interdisciplinar y de los conocimientos situados. En especial, indaga sobre el recogimiento de las memorias de los familiares de Simón -víctima del conflicto armado colombiano- Con tal fin, es contrastada la memoria natural de las víctimas con la memoria jurídica oficial del proceso de Justicia y Paz colombiano. Para ello son analizadas ciertas aproximaciones teóricas a la memoria -desde el campo del derecho y de otras disciplinas-, así como la construcción de la memoria por parte de familiares de desaparecidos. Esta investigación contempla fuentes jurídicas nacionales e internacionales, y considera, sobre todo, los derechos a la verdad, a la justicia y a la reparación de las víctimas, el escenario de la justicia transicional colombiana y la consolidación del delito de desaparición forzada.

Entre columnas Hernán Tena Cortés, 2020-10-06 Entre columnas compila publicaciones en las que el autor manifiesta su preocupación por la desigualdad social que se vive en Colombia. Cada uno de los títulos que encontrará al interior del libro está relacionado con educación, política social, comunidad y temas de interés general para la ciudadanía. El estilo analítico de Tena hace que cada experiencia sea agradable y deje una reflexión en el aire. Desde el desconocido lenguaje del amor hasta la vida al interior de una barra brava, todo en un solo texto.

Remapping Sound Studies Gavin Steingo, Jim Sykes, 2019-03-14 The contributors to Remapping Sound Studies intervene in current trends and practices in sound studies by reorienting the field toward the global South. Attending to disparate aspects of sound in Africa, South and Southeast Asia, Latin America, the Middle East, Micronesia, and a Southern outpost in the global North, this volume broadens the scope of sound studies and challenges some of the field's central presuppositions. The contributors show how approaches to and uses of technology across the global South complicate narratives of technological modernity and how sound-making and listening in diverse global settings unsettle familiar binaries of sacred/secular, private/public, human/nonhuman, male/female, and nature/culture. Exploring a wide range of sonic phenomena and practices, from birdsong in the Marshall Islands to Zulu ululation, the contributors offer diverse ways to remap and decolonize modes of thinking about and listening to sound. Contributors Tripta Chandola, Michele Friedner, Louise Meintjes, Jairo Moreno, Ana María Ochoa Gautier, Michael Birenbaum Quintero, Jeff Roy, Jessica Schwartz, Shayna Silverstein, Gavin Steingo, Jim Sykes, Benjamin Tausig, Hervé Tchumkam

Tráfico J. Scott Bronstein, Rita Vásquez, 2019-04-17 Una historia sobre el trasiego de drogas, armas y migrantes a través del famoso Tapón del Darién y los esfuerzos de las autoridades para combatir estos problemas. Horas de conversaciones con aquellos que conocen los más profundos secretos que oculta la selva, miles de documentos, entre ellos reportes oficiales, tesis de grado y estudios producidos por organismos de colaboración internacional, son la base de Tráfico. Una historia sobre el trasiego de drogas, armas y migrantes a través del famoso Tapón del Darién y los esfuerzos de las autoridades para combatir estos problemas. Tráfico también examina desde cerca la guerra en contra del narcotráfico en América Latina con una nueva perspectiva que analiza los constantes cambios en la política exterior de los principales actores de la región, que en su mayoría operan bajo el paraguas de Estados Unidos con resultados poco constantes. Finalmente, los autores exponen lo que llaman el triángulo de la vergüenza, que no es otra cosa que lo que ocurre cuando convergen en un solo lugar la corrupción, la violencia relacionada con el narco y la evasión de impuestos. Estos elementos constituyen un caldo de cultivo para que el narcotráfico y otras actividades ilícitas proliferen e impidan que los países puedan experimentar la prosperidad y la estabilidad necesarias para mejorar la calidad de vida de sus habitantes. ¿Será ésta una guerra que está perdida o hay esperanzas?
