La Momie du TGV Arnault Pfersdorff,

The Literature of Egypt and the Soudan from the Earliest Times to the Year 1885 [i.e. 1887] Inclusive Prince Ibrahim-Hilmy (son of Ismail, Khedive of Egypt), 1887

Sésostris 3 Palais des Beaux Arts, Lille, Le pharaon Sésostris III est l'un des rois les plus emblématiques de l'Égypte antique. Au cœur du Moyen Empire, son règne (vers 1872-1854 av. J.-C.) marque un tournant dans l'histoire de l'Égypte ancienne. Initiateur de grandes réformes politiques et administratives, ce souverain conquiert durant son règne la Nubie (Soudan actuel), où il fait construire un réseau de forteresses, délimite les premières frontières de son royaume et établit des relations commerciales et diplomatiques intenses avec ses voisins orientaux (actuels Chypre, Liban, Turquie, Syrie, Israël, Palestine). Ses expéditions militaires et la mise en place d'une administration très dévouée lui permettent d'asseoir son pouvoir face aux menaces extérieures mais aussi intérieures que représentaient les notables locaux. L'État égyptien est réinventé en profondeur. Ce changement est incarné dans l'art par la statuaire : les portraits énigmatiques du pharaon qui nous sont parvenus rompent avec les canons traditionnels et le montrent tantôt sous des traits sévères, symboles de sagesse, tantôt sous les traits idéaux d'un jeune homme. Les autres productions artistiques illustrent une prospérité retrouvée et une vitalité manifeste des échanges culturels avec les royaumes voisins.

La splendeur des dieux: Quatre études iconographiques sur l'hellénisme égyptien (2 vols) Gaëlle Tallet, 2020-12-29 Que viennent faire les rayons solaires du dieu grec Hélios sur le front d'un dieu crocodile égyptien ? Cette question est au point de départ d'une enquête au cœur de la plasticité du système polythéiste de l'Égypte gréco-romaine. Parcourant le labyrinthe des diverses communautés et croyances grecques et égyptiennes, Gaëlle Tallet utilise le fil d'Ariane de la production des images religieuses, réponses à de nouveaux besoins et de nouvelles perceptions du divin, et ouvre les portes des ateliers où elles ont été conçues, commandées et façonnées. La Splendeur des dieux propose une réévaluation du rôle des clergés et des artistes indigènes dans l'élaboration d'un hellénisme proprement égyptien, qui leur a permis de promouvoir et préserver des traditions millénaires. Why are the rays of the Greek god Helios on the forehead of a crocodile-headed Egyptian deity? Navigating the maze of Greek and Egyptian communities and creeds, Gaëlle Tallet investigates the plasticity of material culture in the polytheistic context of Graeco-Roman Egypt. Using the Ariadne's thread of the manufacturing of new images, suitable to new needs and new understandings of the divine, La Splendeur des dieux opens the doors of the workshops where these images were designed, ordered and crafted. Tallet offers a full re-appraisal of the cultural balance of powers in Graeco-Roman Egypt, depicting the indigenous clergies and artists as integrated actors of an Egyptian Hellenicity that helped promote and preserve their millenarian-old traditions.

The Symbolist Movement In Literature Arthur Symons, 2021-01-01 The Symbolist Movement in Literature, first published in 1899, and with additional material in 1919, is a work by Arthur Symons largely credited with bringing French Symbolism to the attention of Anglo-American literary circles.

Excavating Women Magarita Díaz-Andreu, Marie Louise Stig Sorensen, 2005-08-11 Archaeologists are increasingly aware of issues of gender when studying past societies; women are becoming better represented within the discipline and are attaining top academic posts. However, until now there has been no study undertaken of the history of women in European archaeology and their contribution to the development of the discipline. Excavating Women discusses the careers of women archaeologists such as Dorothy Garrod, Hanna Rydh and Marija Gimbutas, who against all odds became famous, as well as the many lesser-known personalities who did important archaeological work. The collection spans the earliest days of archaeology as a discipline to the present, telling the stories of women from Scandinavia, Mediterranean Europe, Britain, France, Germany and Poland. The chapters examine women's contributions to archaeology in the context of other, often socio-political, factors that affected their lives. It examines issues such as women's increased involvement in archaeological work during and after the two World Wars, and why so many women found it more acceptable to work outside of their native lands. This critical assessment of women in archaeology makes a major contribution to the history of archaeology. It reveals how selective the archaeological world has been in recognizing the contributions of those who have shaped its discipline, and how it has been particularly inclined to ignore the achievements of women archaeologists. Excavating Women is essential reading for all students, teachers and researchers in archaeology who are interested in the history of their discipline and its sociopolitics.

The Craft of a Good Scribe Steve Vinson,2017-11-06 In The Craft of a Good Scribe, Steve Vinson offers a comprehensive study of the Demotic Egyptian First Tale of Setne Khaemwas (Third Century BCE), the first to appear since 1900. First Setne is the most important extant Demotic literary text, and among the most important fictional compositions from any period of ancient Egypt. The tale, which is by turns lurid, tragic and ultimately comic, deals with Setne's theft of a magic book written by the god Thoth himself, and subsequently Setne's punishment through a hallucinatory encounter with the ghostly femme fatale Tabubue. Vinson provides a new textual edition and commentary, and explores the tale's cultural background, its modern reception, and approaches to its interpretation as a work of literature.

Mummified Angela Stienne,2022-06-07 Mummified explores the curious, unsettling and controversial cases of mummies held in French and British museums. From powdered mummies eaten as medicine to mummies unrolled in public, dissected for race studies and DNA-tested in modern laboratories, there is a lot more to these ancient remains than first meets the eye. This book takes you on a journey from Paris to London, Leicester and Manchester, from the apothecaries of the Middle Ages to the dissecting tables of the eighteenth century, and finally behind the screen of today's computers, to revisit the stories of these bodies that have fascinated Europeans for so long. Mummified investigates matters of life and death, of collecting and viewing, and of interactions - sometimes violent and sometimes emotional - that question the essence of what makes us human.

There and Back Again: Afro-Eurasian Exchange in the Neolithic and Bronze Age Periods Marie Nicole Pareja,Robert Arnott,2024-09-19 This book evaluates the evidence for indirect connections between the Aegean and the Indus extending back to the third and fourth millennia BCE, particularly commodities such as tin and lapis lazuli, and discusses recently discovered objects, new methods of materials analysis techniques and topics, as well as iconographic investigation.
