How to Write (and Deliver) a Killer Wedding Speech (Guide to Delivering the Best Wedding Speeches) Tiffanie Wen, 2012-02-29 ABOUT THE BOOK Congratulations! Your: (circle one) brother/sister/cousin/daughter/best friend is getting married, and you've been asked to be a member of the wedding party. It's a huge honor, and you couldn't be more excited for the couple. Then it dawns on you as you have a silent meltdown: you have to give a toast at the wedding. It's a crucial job. Whether you realize it yet or not, for two to five minutes (please no longer guys, but we'll talk about that later), you will be the sole entertainment at the most important event for one of the most important people in your life. It's pretty cool, actually. You control the mood at a huge party. You can make them laugh, you can make them cry, you can make them cheer (and the best speeches manage to do all three). Or, of course, you can crash and burn with a series of inappropriate jokes told to a silent and awkward crowd of the bride's 300 closest family and friends, including Gerty, her 92-year-old grandma. MEET THE AUTHOR Tiffanie Wen is a professional writer from the San Francisco Bay Area who's written for Newsweek, Flux Hawaii, Ode Magazine and more. When she's not working, she enjoys exploring new places around the world and spending time with her dogs, Rocky and Benny. EXCERPT FROM THE BOOK On the flip side, you don't want to bore your audience with a lengthy chronology of the bride/groom's life. If it's not relevant to the story, it's best to leave it out. If you have a long history with the couple, it can be tempting to reveal 20 minutes' worth of information. But as one frequent toaster said, "Keep it to a few important stories." The sincere well-wishes: This is the part where you get to brag about the couple, talk about how much you love them and express how happy you are that they got married today... Wedding Speeches - a Practical Guide for Delivering an Unforgettable Wedding Speech Sam Siv, 2014-09-02 A Practical Guide for Delivering an Unforgettable Wedding Speech Your wedding day should be the most important day of your life. It is the day when all your friends and family, as well as the friends and family of your husband-to-be, gather together to celebrate your big day. Unless you are lucky enough to be able to afford a wedding planner, you will have so many things to think about and plan, from the pre-wedding parties to the wedding ceremony and reception, and even the honeymoon. As part of your wedding day, it is expected that certain people in your wedding party give speeches to congratulate you on your newly married status and also to tell a few stories about you and the groom. To a certain extent, you don't need to worry about this aspect of the wedding, unless you intend to make a speech yourself. However, you will want to have an input into who makes the speeches and how long they are because this will have a roll-on effect on everything else that happens at your wedding reception. Who gives the speeches and toasts at your wedding really depends on what you want. It is traditional for the male side of the wedding party only to give speeches. You may even want to cut this down further and just ask the best man and groom to give a speech. Then again, you may want to laugh in the face of tradition and make sure the female side of the wedding party, including yourself, have the chance to say something. Of course, you will need to check with everyone that they are happy to give a speech. The groom and best man probably won't have much choice, but others may prefer to stay quiet and simply listen to what the main members of the wedding party have to say.
