Landscape Lab Fabio Bianconi, Marco Filippucci, 2019-01-05 This book explores the relationship between the sciences of representation and the strategy of landscape valorisation. The topic is connected to the theme of the image of the city, which is extended to the territory scale and applied to case studies in Italy's Umbria region, where the goal is to strike a dynamic balance between cultural heritage and nature. The studies demonstrate how landscape represents an interpretive process of finding meaning, a product of the relationships between mankind and the places in which it lives. The work proceeds from the assumption that it is possible to describe these connections between environment, territory and landscape by applying the Vitruvian triad, composed of Firmitas (solidity), Utilitas (utility) and Venustas (beauty). The environment, the sum of the conditions that influence all life, represents the place's solidity, because it guarantees its survival. In turn, territory is connected to utility, and through its etymological meaning is linked to possession, to a domain; while landscape, as an "area perceived by people", expresses the search for beauty in a given place, the process of critically interpreting a vision.

Personal Recollections, from Early Life to Old Age, of Mary Somerville Mary Somerville, 2022-08-01 In Personal Recollections, from Early Life to Old Age, Mary Somerville offers a captivating blend of memoir and intellectual journey that spans her remarkable life from childhood through her venerable years. Not merely a recounting of personal experiences, her narrative is rich with insights into the scientific and cultural milieu of the 19th century. Somerville's literary style is eloquent and reflective, allowing readers to engage deeply with her observations and the pioneering spirit of the scientific community during her time, showcasing the intersection of personal narrative with broader historical developments in women's roles in science and education. Mary Somerville, a mathematician and astronomer, was notably one of the first women to gain recognition in the male-dominated fields of science. Her passion for mathematics and science, ignited in her youth, led her to become an influential figure, respected by her contemporaries, including Charles Babbage and Ada Lovelace. Somerville's experiences as both an educator and a public intellectual informed her writings, creating a unique perspective that bridges personal anecdote with larger societal themes, particularly those surrounding women's issues in the scientific domain. This memoir is highly recommended for readers interested in the history of science, women's studies, and personal narratives. Somerville's articulate recounting not only highlights her achievements but also inspires new generations to reflect on the obstacles faced by women in science, making it a timeless piece of literature that encourages both admiration and introspection.

The Ascent of Mary Somerville in 19th Century Society Elisabetta Strickland, 2016-11-24 This biography traces the life and work of Mary Fairfax Somerville, whose extraordinary mathematical talent only came to light through fortuitous circumstances. Barely taught to read and write as a child, all the science she learned and mastered was self taught. In this delightful narrative the author takes up the challenge of discovering how Somerville came to be one of the most outstanding British women scientists and, furthermore, a popular writer. Particular attention is paid to the gender aspects of Somerville's success in what was, to put it mildly, a predominantly male domain.

La Dama e il compasso Alessandra Oddi Baglioni, 2016-01-03T00:00:00+01:00 Camilla, nobildonna toscana, dal fascino carismatico, incontra l'amore negli occhi ardenti di Francis, rivoluzionario e massone, che ne travolgerà il destino, scardinandolo dal percorso già scritto. Sullo sfondo l'Italia, incendiata dalle passioni rivoluzionarie, conosce insieme al fuoco l'ombra più densa: poteri occulti lottano fra insospettabili alleanze. Le associazioni rivoluzionarie tramano per costruire uno stato centrale dal Tirreno all'Adriatico, cercando di utilizzare le monarchie per raggiungere i propri scopi liberali e repubblicani. Ma la visione illuminata, di una grande Italia federale che sappia comporre le differenze di una nazione frammentata, sarà spazzata via, dalla figura dominante nell'immaginario collettivo, del re-liberatore Savoia.

Waterborne Pageants and Festivities in the Renaissance Margaret Shewring, 2017-03-02 As the first book-length study of waterborne festivities in Renaissance and early modern Europe, this collection of essays draws on a rich array of sources, many previously un-researched, to explore aspects of scenography, choreography, music, fashion, painting, sculpture, architecture, stage-and personnel-management and urban planning as evinced in spectacles staged on water. Bodies of water in all their variety are explored here: seas, rivers, fountains, lakes and canals and flooded improvised locations within or adjacent to great buildings all provided stages for elaborate and costly performances, utilising the particular qualities of water to reflect light and distort sound. The volume encompasses festivals marking a wide range of occasions from the election of civic officials, the welcome of a monarch, an investiture or coronation, to ambassadorial visits or the arrival of a royal or ducal bride or bridegroom. Often taking the form of re-enactments of naval battles or legendary seaborne quests, these festivals seek to buttress civic and national pride, make claims to mastery over the sea and landscape, and explore the imaginative as well as practical life of performance space which has been a hallmark of the research and publication of this volume's honorand, J.R. (Ronnie) Mulryne.
