Make Imposter Syndrome Your Superpower encourages them to own their power and recognize that they already have what it takes to be effective and impactful leaders within the male-dominated industries they're already shaping. Leaning on her decades of experience as a coach for executive women, her expertise in imposter syndrome, and her legacy leadership framework, author Jen Coken blends insight with application in helping women in STEM move from being hidden leaders to ones with more authority, influence, and impact—all starting with embracing their limiting beliefs and self-doubt. This insightful guidebook will help women in STEM step into leadership in a values-aligned and authentic way—disregarding the tired, old examples of what leadership “should” be. They will learn to recognize the defining moment that created their version of imposter syndrome and come to understand, accept, and be grateful for the ways imposter syndrome has helped them along their journey. Make Imposter Syndrome Your Superpower is a transformative handbook for women in STEM, empowering them to build unshakable self-confidence, enhance team dynamics, and influence company culture.

The Success Formula Andrew Kakabadse,2015-03-12 What do successful organizations and smart leaders have in common? They deliver outstanding value to their stakeholders. Interviews with over 80 leading organizations in private, public and third sectors from all over the world have led Andrew Kakabadse to a fascinating insight: organizations where stakeholder engagement was highest were not those led by charismatic and visionary leaders, but by a culture of delivering outstanding value. Through his research, he found two different approaches at work. In strategy-led organizations, senior management has a clear notion of how value can be created and enacts a strategy to achieve it with the support of key managers and board members. Value-delivery-led organizations approach value creation differently. In these organizations, the leadership gathers evidence from internal and external stakeholders to determine the value the organization is delivering today and can deliver in the future. A strategy is then put in place to support those findings – and is deliberately exposed to challenges from stakeholders to create engagement. The Success Formula demonstrates how value-delivery-led organizations are outperforming their strategy-led counterparts and how the world's best organizations deliver value to their stakeholders, with examples drawn from Anglo American, Deutsche Bank, Citibank, Jaguar/Landrover, Microsoft, BMW and Alfa Bank. This authoritative guide shows leaders how to improve the way they gather meaningful evidence to create a value-delivery culture that maximizes the benefits for their organizations and stakeholders.
